

Biden Evacuates Staff from Embassy as Gang Leader ‘Barbecue’ Becomes ‘Most Powerful Man in Haiti’

The U.S. Southern Command (USSOUTHCOM) said on Sunday it was obliged to airlift non-essential personnel from the United States Embassy in Haiti, as well as send more troops to the embassy to provide security.

The European Union and Germany also withdrew embassy personnel as bloody gang violence in Haiti intensified.

“The upsurge in gang violence in neighborhoods near the U.S. embassy and airport has led the State Department to decide to proceed with the departure of additional agents,” a U.S. diplomatic spokesman told Agence France-Presse (AFP) on Sunday.
