Flash floods and landslides left 150 people dead, people accused leaders of not warning