

German authorities raid 54 pro-Hezbollah sites in nationwide sting

Hamburg Islamic center accused of working to incite domestic extremism amid Israel-Hamas war

Nov. 16 (UPI) — German authorities raided dozens of Islamic sites and facilities across the country on Thursday as part of a sting targeting proxies and other radicalized supporters of the militant group Hezbollah.

The investigation centered on the Islamic Center in Hamburg as the focal point of an operation to smoke out domestic insurgents who were aiming to subvert the country's "constitutional order," the interior ministry said, while accusing the center of serving as a mouthpiece for the Iranian government.
