

Malcolm X's daughter to sue NYPD, FBI and CIA over dad's assassination

Malcolm X's daughter announced Tuesday - on the 58th anniversary of her father's assassination - that she plans to sue the CIA, the FBI and the NYPD for allegedly concealing evidence related to the murder.

Ilyasah Shabazz filed notices of intent to sue federal and New York agencies for $100 million in damages "for the alleged assassination and fraudulent concealment of evidence surrounding Malcolm X's murder," her lawyer Ben Crump said.

"For years, our family has fought for the truth to come to light concerning his murder," Shabazz said at a press conference with her attorneys Tuesday.

The announcement was made at a memorial site for civil rights leader in Washington Heights, on the spot he was assassinated on Feb. 21, 1965 while speaking at the Audubon Ballroom.

Two men wrongfully convicted in the assassination — and who spent decades in prison — were exonerated in 2021 following a renewed probe by the Manhattan District Attorney's Office.
