

Venezuela FM says President willing to hold talks with Donald Trump

Minister of Foreign Affairs of Venezuela Jorge Arreasa has announced President of Venezuela Nicolas Maduro's willingness to hold talks with US President Donald Trump, TASS reports.

According to Areasa, Maduro is always ready for any proposal.

"Since the first day Donald Trump was elected, Maduro has said there are disagreements between the two presidents, and there still are disagreements, but they need to be solved through dialogue," Jorge Areasa stated, adding that Trump has announced the likelihood of such a meeting several times and that ultra-right

Republicans are hindering the dialogue.
