Greetings from Tyler,

We're still shocked about these demonstrations. Where did these people come from? Do they have no idea the atrocities that were committed? What are they demonstrating about? They need to have their faces rubbed in the atrocities. Or better yet, get an all expenses paid trip to the war zone.

No matter, they're filling the streets to "make their voices heard" in support of Hamas. Lloyd Austin or Anthony Blinkin take center stage to urge caution. But the Israeli spokesmen say the job won't be done until Hamas is no more. Are the Israelis supposed to stand by and see homes invaded by terrorists? The butchery these animals committed is too gruesome to discuss.

Apparently the Israeli soldiers are planning to pump sea water into the tunnels. They keep finding weapons stashed, under schools and hospitals. The terrorists are counting on Israel to not violate places where there are children or sick people. Meanwhile they're still holding hostages. These "brave fighters" need innocent people to hide behind.

The war is back on after a cease fire that was violated. One thing you learn after a while, deals with terrorists are no good.

We're not hearing too much about Ukraine these days. It was front and center while they were raising money. Now, hardly anybody's talking about it. Because Ukraine doesn't stand a chance against Russia, whatever the arguments.

When have you ever seen a display such as this? Hunter is in big trouble. Joe is implicated, and knows he has to run again to keep control of the situation. Now his son is facing criminal indictment in California, and he has to be concerned about what will be revealed. If it's true that these guys sold out the United States for... I can't tell you what for. Apparently they live way high on the hog, beyond their visible means. They put up a graphic on television showing the categories the money was spent on. It's not good.

The border situation is worse than ever. This morning they showed LIVE video, and it's unbelievable. They're here from all over the world. They're headed to New York or Philadelphia or California. Apparently it's the border patrol's responsibility to make sure they get there. We're being invaded. Maybe most of them don't have bad intentions, they're just taking advantage of a wide open border into the United States. But it doesn't take many with ill intent.

Have you heard? They're starting up about masks again. Will Americans listen? I think masks are a symbol, and not much more. You can see at a glance who believes what they're saying on the news, and who doesn't know or care. Let's hope we're not in for another round. Where is the little doctor anyway? Maybe he'll make another appearance, and we can resume where we left off. But the CDC has lost credibility, and only the truly indoctrinated will mask up again.

The media's current fancy is that if ever allowed near the Oval Office again, Trump would be a dictator. Did Liz Cheney start this? They're saying he'll be as bad as the worst history has ever seen. Hannity asked Trump about it in an interview this week. Trump said he'd be a dictator on day one only. He'd close the border and unleash drilling for oil. Now every liberal outlet is worrying aloud about it. There are bigger things to worry about. We should be so lucky.
