Greetings from Tyler,

Hope you weren't planning a vacation in Haiti. The rival gangs have the upper hand. they're turning the facilities at Guantanamo Bay into a processing center for Haitian migrants. Nobody asked you.

There are demonstrations against Israel for their inhumane treatment of Hamas. Figures are being released for the death toll in Gaza. Experts say they're plucked out of thin air, and there's no independent verification. Studies say the numbers released are not plausible. We expect terrorists to release accurate numbers?

Maybe you've seen the pro-Hamas demonstrations. Will they ultimately have to release the video of what these hopped up monsters did? You'd probably recognize Scott Jennings, who as a commentator on CNN accused the "squad" of promoting terrorists from within the Congress of the United States. It left the whole panel speechless. How they can demonstrate on behalf of the killers and kidnappers is beyond comprehension.

It looks like the Judge in the Nathan Wade/Fani Willis case decided on a half-way measure. He ordered Ms. Willis to sever relations with Mr. Wade regarding the case. We'll have to wait to find out how this is resolved. It's not looking too good for the prosecution. If you had the patience to watch any of the courtroom proceedings... Now to get Trump! Forgive my doubt. Jonathan Turley wonders how, legally, such a ruling could be made. It will be very interesting from here on.

We've got eight months to go to find out what happens to this country. It almost seems like there's a systematic plan to revoke the peace and blessings we enjoy. If there weren't bad news, there wouldn't be any news at all. We don't know who is making decisions anymore. Everything has fallen apart, and every American knows it. The pretender goes out front and reads what's on the teleprompter, hurriedly slurring. He's not the author, after all.

According to the press, there's a rift between the "administration" and the Prime Minister of Israel. Netanyahu seems to be as hated as Trump, if that's possible. The Biden "administration" thinks they can make demands on Israel, however unrealistic. There is financial leverage, of course. Do these diplomats think they can dictate Israeli decisions? It's a matter of survival. But there's no love lost between Biden and Netanyahu, as is abundantly evident.

Court cases are looming over statements made about the Covid vaccines. You better not dispute federal doctrine publicly, or they'll break you. Is that not the message?

You may have heard of the mishaps on Boeing jets recently. Maybe they're using DEI for their hiring. Doors shouldn't just fall off. Landing gear isn't supposed to collapse. If this idiocy becomes policy for hiring technicians, we're all in trouble. A whistle-blower who said he wouldn't commit suicide has wound up dead, of suicide. You couldn't write this stuff.

What's going on with the border is beyond watching. Maybe history should be consulted to find out what happens when the uncivilized world floods into a society. You think we've got a crime problem now?

The world's "elite" have everything figured out. They've got to get rid of a lot of us in order to "save the planet." They were experts on Covid too.
